

CASE TRIMMERS

L.E. Wilson Stainless Steel Case Trimmer

Wilson case trimmers are unique in that the case is held by a case holder which simulates a rifle chamber. Cases are held in case holders by their own body taper. The case holders sit in a rail system that also holds the cutter housing ensuring square and perfect alignment every time. Trimmers can be held in a vise or in a trimmer stand sold separately below. Trimmers can also be used for inside neck reaming, military crimp removal, and case mouth deburring by adding additional cutters. Case Holder not included. Case Holders found on Page 36-37.

L.E. Wilson Inside Neck Reamer

Thick necks can cause high chamber pressures and erratic shooting. Neck reamers remove excess neck material to insure adequate clearance exists between the case neck and the chamber. Also, these reamers can be used when forming wildcats from a parent case. Reamers are used in the trimmers in place of the trimmer cutter. Standard reamers are sized for use on fired, un-sized cases.

Lyman Case Trim Xpress

Lyman's Case Trim Xpress gives rifle reloaders the speed and accuracy that they have been looking for when trimming cases! The unit has its own power source, and a strong variable speed motor, so there is no need to use power drills or purchase separate motors. By using bushings that contact on the shoulder of bottle neck type cases, the Case Trim Xpress will quickly and cleanly trim your brass by simply pushing the case against the long lasting carbide cutter. The trimmer comes with a set of 10 bushings designed to fit most popular bottleneck rifle cases. The bushings support and center the case with the cutter. No pilots are needed! The bushings are spring loaded to provide a smooth, effortless cut; and allow the user to trim approximately 15 cases per minute. In addition, the Case Trim Xpress is equipped with an adjustment wheel, which allows case lengths to easily be "dialed in" to .001" increments.

K & M Precision Flash Hole Uniformer

With the precision K & M uniformer you simultaneously "ream", "de-burr", and "chamfer" the inside of the flash hole. The unique feature of the K & M tool is that it provides uniformity with a "pre-set" depth stop surrounding the steel cutter; it does not require the cases to be trimmed to a uniform length. A "reversible" sliding "centering cone" is supplied to keep the case aligned and centered during the uniforming operation. These tools are designed with hand power in mind.

CASE PREP TOOLS

K & M Microadjustable Case Neck Turning Tool
 Undoubtedly the tool with the best adjustment resolution of all tools on the market. Outside neck turning (hand lathe) is far superior to any form of inside reaming as a reamer would tend to follow the off center hole. The K & M tool is simple to use, it can easily be adjusted to remove the desired amount of brass from the thick side to clean up and equal the thin side or the tool can be adjusted to cut down to the desired dimension. Tolerance can be held to .0001" very easily – the adjustment is compound thread that is equal to 440 turns to the inch instead of the usual 40. (Note – even a micrometer only has 40 turns to the inch). Index marks are provided to assist its adjustment. Special ground with angles unique to cutting brass. The case holder uses Lee auto prime shell holders for the different calibers. The shell holder clamps the case in the hex drive power adapter so it can be powered by a low speed drill or cordless screwdriver, or the power adapter can be put into a handle to be hand operated.

K & M Carbide 4 Flute Neck Turning Pilots

K & M has specially designed a carbide pilot that has four flutes for removing the "dough-nut" that is located at the neck-shoulder junction of a case. Removing this extra material aids in a consistent high volume flow of powder gas. A small difference in the shape and diameter of the hole makes a huge difference in performance. This carbide pilot will also cut the extra material out of this area if you have changed the neck to a different caliber.
